EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

IPL'S FINAL FOUR: It has been yet another edition of IPL cricket with four teams now confirmed for this season's play-offs. Mumbai Indians, Delhi Capitals, Sunrisers Hyderabad and Royal Challengers Bangalore have made it to the final four. But their paths to the business end of the tournament have been extremely competitive. Being played in the UAE this year due to the ongoing COVID-19 pandemic, there were doubts about the quality of cricket given the unusual circumstances. Bio-bubbles, fake crowd sounds and empty stadiums as essential elements of the new protocols were big disrupters. Nevertheless, despite its many lacunae, there were some good cricketing performances on display. Whether it was the explosive Chris Gayle or the all-round brilliance of Ben Stokes or the express pace of Joffra Archer, cricket fans may not have reason to complain about the on-field calibre of the matches themselves, leaving aside their circumstances. There have been runs galore, good catches and close finishes, including the first-ever double super over. Given the dire circumstances of pandemic hit India, the tournament may have been able to provide a modicum of normalcy, at least to cricket lovers. But the omission of Chennai Super Kings — one of the most successful IPL teams — from the business end of the tournament has been a surprise, throwing the spotlight on skipper M.S. Dhoni's waning prowess. Overall, there have been many highs as well as lows in the cricket tournament. — In The Times of India

Artistically decorated pies of Helen Nugent

Toronto: Toronto-based pie maker Helen Nugent, specialises in intricately designed pies that are definitely way too good to eat.

Helen Nugent is a self-taught food artist, who abandoned her career in corporate communications to focus on her passion, baking. Today, Helen is recognised as one of the world's leading pie artists, has her own cookbook, and collaborates with various food-themed magazines and even the Food Network. And to think it all started with a photo of a beautiful pie she saw on the internet...

The food artist started coming up with all sorts of interesting pie designs, but it was her husband, Jim Brand, who photographed her work and shared in on Instagram, where it really took off. Pie baking became such a big part of Helen Nugent's life that she decided to quit her job and focus on baking.

Man has giant tusks implanted to resemble fictional creature

Iguatemi: A 41-year-old tattoo artist and body modification enthusiast who calls himself Orc had two giant fake tusks fitted onto his bottom row of teeth, in an attempt to make himself look like a real-life orc.

Orc, who hails from the Brazilian town of Iguatemi, in Mato Grosso do Sul, got his first tattoo at the age of 15, and has since developed a passion for tattoos and body modifications, undergoing several procedures that have left him looking rather unique. The 41-year-old father of one has both eyes tattooed black, about 80% of his body covered in ink, a split tongue, several subdermal implants and sliced ears, but it's his mouth that draws most people's attention. Orc spent over $500 having a pair of large tusks fitted over his bottom teeth to make himself look like the fictional creature depicted in popular films and video games like Warcraft.

Will drinking coffee stunt my child's growth?

There is no evidence to support the claim that coffee or tea will stunt a child's growth. The best argument for not allowing a child to drink coffee is that the caffeine may cause agitation, irritability and insomnia due to its effects on the child's small body mass.

Pataaki BANNED

No sale or bursting of firecrackers in city

Mysuru, Nov.6 (SSV)- The Government of Karnataka has banned the sale and bursting of crackers during the coming Deepavali festival in view of prevailing pandemic.

Announcing this in Bengaluru today, Chief Minister B.S.Yediyurappa said there will be no sale and bursting of crackers as the smoke emanating from them would cause serious health problems for recovered and recovering Corona positive patients. An order to this effect will be issued soon, he added.

It is said that experts and members of Technical Team headed by Dr. M.K. Sudarshan had apprised Health and Medical Education Minister Dr.K.Sudhakar about the dangers involved in allowing the citizens to burst firecrackers, that too at a time when the State was still reeling under the onslaught of COVID-19.

Later, the experts also met the CM and explained to him about the need to impose a total ban on the sale and bursting of crackers this time. On the basis of their recommendation, the State Government has decided to take this step.

It may be mentioned here that States like Rajasthan, Odisha, West Bengal and Haryana have already banned the sale and bursting of firecrackers this year due to pandemic.

When SOM contacted MCC Commissioner Gurudatta Hegde, he said "I can comment only after seeing the order."

CRORES OF RUPEES BUSINESS

The firecracker business runs into crores of rupees. The wholesale traders buy firecrackers from Sivakasi in Tamil Nadu well in advance. In Mysuru, the stalls are put up across the city two to three days before the Naraka Chaturdashi festival. However, large number of stalls are put up inside the Town Hall premises. With the Government's ban on firecrackers this time, the MCC may not issue licence to put up cracker stalls.

Tiger sighting enthralls tourists at Gopalaswamy Hill

Gundlupet, Nov. 6 (MTY&KS)- Tourists, who were returning from Gopalaswamy Hill, were a happy lot as a tiger came in front of the KSRTC bus and sat on the roadside giving pose to them yesterday evening.

As entry of private vehicles is banned to hilltop, tourists and others visiting the Temple atop the Hill have to take KSRTC bus from the foot of the hill. The last bus to the hilltop leaves at 4 pm from the foothill and departs from the hilltop at 5.30 pm.

Yesterday at 4 pm, the bus (KA-10-F-513) left with 35 passengers and was returning back at about 5.20 pm, when a tiger came in front of the bus. Rajanna, the driver, who applied the brakes immediately, informed the passengers about the presence of a tiger on the road. It was indeed an excited moment for the passengers to look at the National Animal.

The tiger, which moved from the road, sat on the roadside giving pose to the passengers by staring at them for sometime before moving back into the forest. Though tigers were spotted through camera traps during tiger census at Gopalaswamy Hill, it is for the first time that tourists have spotted the tiger in this range, which comes under Bandipur Tiger Reserve.

N. Nagaraj Swamy, a resident of Gundlupet, who is deployed as a security at the temple under 'Pravasi Mithra' programme, was also travelling in the bus and a witness for the tiger sighting.

Utilise pending Dasara funds for road repairs

Sir,

It was a pleasure to read in newspapers that the Dasara Festival Committee has announced a savings of over Rs. 7 crore after the simple Dasara celebrations in Mysuru, Mandya and Chamarajanagar and the organisers deserve all appreciation.

At the same time, Mysureans also demand a part of saved funds to be utilised towards pending works like road repair, several projects pending including the Rajukaluve project in SBM Colony where the residents have been suffering for more than three years from rain waters entering houses in the absence of proper rain water drains apart from payment of pending bills to contractors.

It would be better if the MCC demands from the Government a sum of Rs.50 lakh per Ward for all 65 Wards in Mysuru as per original proposal.

Let the Corporators including the Mayor put up their demands in the Council meeting to put pressure on the Government to get funds to meet the pending projects in Mysuru as part of development.

The Unknown side of Sir Mirza Ismail His Lineage and Legacy

October 24th was the 137th birth anniversary of Sir Mirza Ismail, one of the Dewans of the erstwhile Mysore State who later went on to become the Dewan of the Princely States of Jaipur and Hyderabad too. To mark this event, the Anjuman-E-Hadiqatul Adab, Mysuru, conducted a webinar that was well-received by the large number of viewers who logged in. I can say with some confidence that the Anjuman requires no introduction to most Mysureans because it is well-known for the annual Eid Milan get-together which it has been hosting over the past fifteen years to promote communal harmony and camaraderie among people of different faiths.

This event is as old as my column is because it is with my report of the first Eid Milan, which I filed for Star of Mysore, that my column was born! However, this year's Eid Milan unfortunately could not be conducted because COVID-19 wiped out all celebrations from the entire face of this earth. Let's all hope that things will change for the better before it is time to hold the Eid Milan next year.

Niranjan Nikam, the well-known senior journalist, who again does not need any introduction to most Mysureans, was the principal speaker at the webinar. He spoke on 'The Unknown side of Sir Mirza Ismail,' a topic which I suggested because I felt that by being slightly unusual, it would certainly be a crowd-puller! And Niranjan rose up to the expectations of his large virtual audience admirably well. Through some very painstakingly collected and well-curated references, Niranjan brought out many very interesting anecdotes from the life of Sir Mirza which were very noteworthy because I don't think they are known to present day Mysureans.

Although it is understandable and expected too, that any speaker worth his salt will come well-informed and well-prepared for his talk, it quickly became evident to me that Niranjan was privy to much inside information which left me more than a little amazed. Take for instance the revelation that upon his death, the body of Sir Mirza that had already been interred was once again exhumed when there was a hue and cry from many grieving members of the public that they did not get a chance to see it and pay their last respects to their dear leader.

The body was once again displayed on a platform of sand for many more hours till late in the night and till all the people assembled there were satisfied that they had paid their homage to the man before it was interred into the grave once again. I have never heard of anything like this having happened, anywhere in the world in connection with the death of any public figure. DVG, the well-known Kannada writer, in his account about Sir Mirza has said that among the mourners was a frail old lady who was weeping bitterly saying that Sir Mirza, once while on his morning rounds, in response to her humble plea summoned one of the municipal engineers and ordered him to immediately provide a water tap to the street she lived in!

R.K. Narayan, the famous writer says in his autobiography, 'My Days' on page 138 that when his writing was not very paying, with him having got just 40 pounds for his book 'The Dark Room', it was Sir Mirza who got him a free railway pass and a government grant and commissioned him to write his book on Mysore, which Narayan was keen on writing. As Niranjan's talk progressed, the pieces of a most interesting jigsaw puzzle began to fall in place one by one. Niranjan revealed that his wife Pamela and he were associated for over ten months with the production of a book on Agha Aly Asker, the paternal grandfather of Sir Mirza, written by Sir Mirza's very charming and graceful nephew Maj. Mohammed Mirza's wife Syeda Mirza who stays in Bengaluru. The book which the speaker had brought with him, says that Sir Mirza who shared a very close working association and more significantly a very intimate friendship with the then Maharaja of Mysore, Sri Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, would not have been a part of the history and growth of Mysore if his very enterprising grandfather, Agha Aly Asker, as a sixteen-year-old lad had not overheard a conversation between two people who were sipping tea in a chaikhana at his hometown, Shiraz in Iran. Learning that there was a great demand for Arab horses in the court of the Maharaja of a distant kingdom called Mysore, he decided to try his luck in selling them where they were in demand. So, he wasted no time in buying two hundred fine steeds and setting sail with them to India from Iran in the year 1824. The most surprising fact is that every one of those two hundred horses survived this long and arduous journey over sea and land, reaching Bangalore, alive and kicking!

The man who sold the horses to the Maharaja endeared himself to his customer and settled down in Bangalore which soon became his 'Karmabhumi' according to the writer Syeda Mirza. At that time Mummadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar, the then Maharaja of Mysore was about to become a victim of the very vicious Doctrine of Lapse imposed on Indian royalty by a very scheming British regime by which it could annex any kingdom if the ruler did not have a direct heir. It is reported that Agha Aly Asker became very close to the Maharaja because he could through his good relationship with Sir Mark Cubbon, the British Commissioner, get the Crown to restore the kingdom's reins into the Maharaja's hands, which understandably must have been a very difficult task. Meanwhile Sir Mark Cubbon commissioned Aly Asker to build more than a hundred bungalows around High Grounds, Richmond Town and the Bangalore Cantonment, many of which still stand in testimony to his abilities. We also have the Ali Asker Road named after him in Bengaluru on which his own house too still stands, although in a very vestigial state.

The close relationship between his family and the Mysore royal family continued down the line with his grandson, Sir Mirza Ismail becoming the classmate of the young Maharaja Sri Nalwadi Krishnaraja Wadiyar at the private royal school that was being run in the Summer Palace in Bangalore. Sir Mirza, who graduated from the Central College, Bangalore in the year 1905 and held many high posts was the first Indian to become the Private Secretary to the Maharaja. At the age of forty-two, he also went on to become the youngest Dewan of the State of Mysore in the year 1926 after A.R. Banerjee relinquished office.

His love for Mysore was so intense that in a speech that was aired on All India Radio, which can still easily be found on its archives in the internet, Sir Mirza says: I want Mysoreans to wash with Mysore soap, dry themselves with Mysore towels, clothe themselves in Mysore silk, ride Mysore horses, eat abundant Mysore food, drink Mysore coffee, sweetened with Mysore sugar, equip their houses with Mysore furniture, light them with Mysore lamps and write on Mysore paper!

Sir Mirza in his autobiography, 'My Public Life' says that the passing away of his dear friend, the Maharaja was the greatest sorrow that he had known! Towards the last phase of his active public life Sir Mirza seemed to have lapsed into a slightly disillusioned frame of mind. Here in Mysore he was seen by his detractors as a Muslim who was unusually close and influential with a Hindu Maharaja only because of his childhood friendship. At Jaipur he was seen as anti-Hindu while at Hyderabad he was seen as anti-Muslim because he did not support its existence as an independent State, without integration into the Indian Union!

It is said that once when the Maharaja and he were doing their morning rounds together on horseback, Sir Mirza, for reasons best known to him, expressed his desire to step down from his post. The Maharaja smiled and pointing towards the Chamundi Hill said: "You can do it when I go there." He meant the cremation ground at the foot of the hill! And, that is how it was. Sir Mirza's death came calling at the age of seventy-five while he was still very active. His demise was mourned not only here at home but across the world too, with newspapers in many countries writing about his very productive life.

Reporting on Sir Mirza's resignation as Dewan of Mysore, The Ceylon News on May, 12th, 1941 said, Truth is a paradox and so is greatness. Sir Mirza too was a man of paradoxes. He was an autocrat with democratic instincts. A dictator with a weakness for having a constitution. A capitalist with socialist leanings. An idealist with an intense practical outlook. A dreamer with the astute mind of a businessman. A most charming man but a very stern and strict official. A perfect host but an indifferent friend. And he had no bosom friends, except the late Maharaja of Mysore!

The most amazing thing that Niranjan revealed in his talk was that the grand-old-man of India, Sir C. Rajagopalachari, fondly known as Rajaji, the first Indian to become the Governor General of India, at the time of the imminent partition told Sir Mirza to accept the invitation of Mohammed Ali Jinnah and go over to Pakistan. When a shell-shocked and very outraged Sir Mirza angrily asked him why, he said, "that way we will have someone in Pakistan who will love India and thus ensure that the Pakistanis too will do the same!" A wry but a terrific compliment indeed !

Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa and Music University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote exchanging MoU to conduct Theatre training by Bharatiya Rangashikshana Kendra at Rangayana premises.

Mysuru, Nov. 6 (RKB&DM)- In yet another initiative for taking theatre closer to the people, City's theatre repertory Rangayana signed a Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) with city-based KSGH Music and Performing Arts University, at Rangayana premises on Hunsur Road this morning, thus marking the formal launch of Theatre Training classes by Bharatiya Rangashikshana Kendra. The MoU was jointly signed by Music University Vice-Chancellor Prof. Nagesh V.Bettakote and Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa.

Speaking on the occasion, Rangayana Director Addanda C. Cariappa said that the Theatre School offers a one-year Diploma Course in theatre education and training for PUC qualified students. Pointing out that the school received over 200 applications when called for it a couple of months ago, he said that this year admission has been restricted to only 20 students. The students after completion of one-year, will get practical training for another year with visits to several places across the State to familiarise with the nuances of the theatre. The students will also get to learn discipline and an opportunity to hone their life skills, he said.

Explaining the objectives of the Theatre Training School, Cariappa said that with the starting of the school, it has been proposed to take the theatre to every nook and corner of the State. Noting that though the Course was run in association with Kannada University at Hampi for the past several years, he said that now an MoU has been signed with the Music University taking into consideration the more advantages and benefits that the school will have here.

KSGH Music and Performing Arts University VC Prof. Nagesh V. Bettakote in his address, said that the theatre and life are closely inter-connected. Maintaining that theatre helps in bringing discipline and a sense of oneness among the students, he said that it is important for theatre artistes to spread the fragrance of our rich arts and culture among the society, while also ensuring their professional growth.

Renowned theatre personality Prakash Belawadi too addressed the gathering. The 20 students selected for the course were welcomed to the school with flowers and were distributed ID cards and face masks. The students were also advised on strict maintenance of COVID-19 norms in place at the campus.

School Head S. Ramanath, Rangayana Joint Director V.N. Mallikarjunaswamy, Rangayana faculty Manjunath Kasaragod, Dhananjaya, Hadapad, Digvijay and others were present on the occasion.

Tests and Teamwork Tame Corona

A freewheeling chat with Mysuru DC Rohini Sindhuri

Tests and teamwork have worked as magic for the Mysuru District Administration to tame COVID-19 that had virtually gone out of control for sometime causing concern for authorities concerned. A couple of strategies adopted by Deputy Commissioner (DC) Rohini Sindhuri helped to bring down positive cases and death rates considerably. In a freewheeling chat with Star of Mysore, she shared the plan of action to keep the pandemic under check until a vaccine arrives in the market. Excerpts.—Ed

By Shyam Sundar Vattam

Star of Mysore: How serious was COVID-19 situation when you took charge as the DC of Mysuru on Sept. 29?

Rohini Sindhuri: The situation was not only serious but it was grim. I was shocked to learn that around 30 per cent of Corona positive patients died within 48 hours of hospital admission and 60 per cent within 72 hours. The number of testing was around 400 to 600 in the entire district.

Utter chaos prevailed in city and district over non-availability of beds, oxygen and lack of treatment. There was lack of co-ordination among district officials of various Departments. No one knew who was doing what and accountability was missing. On one hand the Corona positive cases were piling up and on the other death rate was moving northwards. People were hesitant to undergo testing let alone taking treatment due to fear of death.

Mysuru District that had remained in green zone for many weeks between April-June suddenly became the hotspot and climbed second place after Bengaluru in reporting the maximum number of positive cases and deaths. Fatality rate had climbed up to 2.1 per cent which was much more high than the national average of 1.5 per cent.

Star of Mysore: What strategy did you adopt to arrest growth of Corona positive cases?

Rohini Sindhuri: Before taking charge, I had met State Chief Secretary T.M. Vijay Bhaskar, who advised me to dedicate fully in bringing the pandemic situation under control. On the day of assuming charge, I was surprised to see the absence of co-ordination among officials. While Health Department personnel were slogging day and night, officials of other Departments had stayed away from COVID-19 duty as if it was not their job.

Disparity in salary among nursing staff in Government Hospitals run by Medical Colleges had demotivated them. Then, I decided to appoint 22 Nodal Officers selected from Departments other than Health, such as Horticulture, Agriculture, Sericulture and Urban Local Body, to work along with Health Department officers by giving them responsibilities. They were made in-charge of hospital beds, oxygen supply, testing, ventilators and other urgent steps required to instill confidence in people.

Meeting was called daily at 5.30 pm to take stock of the situation. Every Nodal Officer was made to attend the meeting compulsorily to brief me. Since testing was low, 23 places were identified where free RT-PCR test was conducted daily.

Besides, additional manpower was given to Health Department to deploy mobile testing squads at crowded places to examine citizens. So, the number of testing jumped from 600 to 3,500 daily. Hitherto, testing was done for only three to four hours daily due to inconvenience in wearing PPE kit for long hours. This problem was addressed by making them to work in shifts.

Star of Mysore: What made private hospitals which were turning away patients to fall in line?

Rohini Sindhuri: Initially, private hospitals did not co-operate with the State Government in dealing with the situation. Finding beds for Corona positive patients was a biggest challenge. A meeting was convened and the managements were strictly told to reserve 50 per cent of beds for COVID patients or to face legal action. A majority of them fell in line.

Next the problem of excess billing by private hospitals cropped up. This was addressed by forming special teams comprising officers from various Departments to visit the hospitals daily to interact with Corona positive patients being treated in General Wards to find whether they have been overcharged.

A number of new problems cropped up every day but everything was sorted out with the co-operation of Health and Medical Education Minister Dr. K. Sudhakar. Because of his efforts, K.R. Hospital has got new equipment called 'Liquid Handling System' two days ago which will help to give RT-PCR results within 24 hours. All these days, they were sending the swab samples to Bengaluru which would take four to five days. Now, all the samples collected from all taluks will be pooled and tested in 'Doddaspatre' for quick results. As on today, the number of testing has reached 4,000 to 5,000 daily.

Star of Mysore: Is it true that the demand for beds has come down sharply? Why is it so?

Rohini Sindhuri: Increase in testing has helped in early detection of positive cases. A few weeks ago, home isolation was hardly 5 per cent and now it is around 90 per cent. That means, patients are now preferring to take treatment in homes than in hospitals. Naturally, this has reduced the burden on both Government and private hospitals.

An officer has been made in-charge to enquire well-being of home quarantine patients. Now, private hospitals are requesting the District Administration to send Corona positive patients to them for treatment. The beds are now allotted through War Room set up in new District Offices Complex, Siddarthanagar. Patients are given option to select the hospital of their choice. This happened mainly due to concerted efforts of every officer in every Department. Steps had been taken for the closure of COVID Care Centres, thanks to drastic fall in positive cases in the district.

Star of Mysore: Experts have indicated increase in cases during winter. How is the District Administration prepared to deal with it?

Rohini Sindhuri: As I have said, there is no shortage of beds, oxygen, ventilators and oxygenated beds anywhere in the district. With the setting up of 50 oxygenated beds in each taluk hospital, the number of patients coming to the District Hospital has reduced. Plenty of beds are available in designated COVID-19 Hospital, Trauma Care Centre and other places that had been converted into COVID Care Centres. We don't know the severity of second wave as predicted by experts. But, we are fully geared up to deal with it. People will be requested to follow safety measures till a vaccine is available.

Star of Mysore: We have heard that you are computing details of Corona Warriors to cover them in first round of mass inoculation. Is it true?

Rohini Sindhuri: Details of doctors, para-medical staff, Group-D and other Health Department staff are ready. But private hospitals are yet to share this information. We have already identified cold storage units for the storage of vaccine and held talks with its owners. Once the vaccine is finalised, there will be mass vaccination of Corona Warriors in first phase. But, till then people must take precaution and not to become complacent.

SWR Mysuru constitutes five Sub-Divisional Business Development Units to boost freight traffic

Mysuru, Nov. 6- To give a push to freight traffic and to enable ease of doing business, the South Western Railway (SWR), Mysuru Division, had set up Business Development Unit (BDU) in July following directives from the Ministry of Railways. The move was intended to strengthen the share of the Railway in traditional commodities carried and to make a foray into miscellaneous non-bulk goods.

BDU formed at Divisional-level acts as a single-window for freight business. It aims to attract road traffic and to double the freight volume.

Because of SWR Mysuru Division BDU's sustained marketing efforts, the Division captured new traffic of commodities like Automobile, Nestle products, Arecanuts, Ginger, etc. The Division has recorded around 16 percent increase in freight loading for October compared to last year.

To give a push to the transportation of agricultural products through Kisan Special, selected agriculture commodities are given concession up to 50 percent.

To further boost the loading and to improve customer experience, the new Divisional Railway Manager (DRM) of Mysuru Division, Rahul Agarwal, has taken initiative to form BDUs at sub-divisional levels, including Subramanya Road, Hassan/Arsikere, Mysuru, Shivamogga and Davangere comprising Supervisors from Commercial and Operating Departments.

Mysuru Division assures customers a conducive environment at all loading points and customers have been asked to put forward their valuable suggestions/genuine grievances for hassle-free transportation of their goods and ensure that even minor irritants in the processes would be addressed on priority. The name and contact numbers of respective staff are as under:

DC directs officials to organise skill training programmes

Mysuru, Nov.6 (MK&DM)- In a bid to promote skill development among youths, Deputy Commissioner Rohini Sindhuri has asked the District Skill Development Centre to take measures for organising skill training classes at the earliest.

She was presiding over a review meeting of District Skill Mission at her office here recently.

Noting that skill development programmes have taken a back seat following the outbreak of the deadly COVID-19 pandemic, she said that the officials must take measures for setting up of new Skill Development Centres at Mysuru and Nanjangud. Calling for continuous co-operation with private institutions for imparting skill training, she instructed the officials to prepare an action plan on creating job opportunities in the coming days.

She further directed to ensure that the grants under the Prime Minister's Atmanirbhar Fund reaches the street vendors and other targetted beneficiaries. District Skill Development Officer Shivanna, MCC Additional Commissioner N.M. Shashikumar, Joint Director of Agriculture Dr. M. Mahanteshappa and other officials were present.

WORD OF THE DAY

Repine

Pronunciation: rih-PYNE
Meaning: To feel or express dejection or discontent : complain; To long for something.
Origin: In longing, one can "repine over" something ("repining over her lost past"), or one can "pine for" something. The two words, used thus, mean close to the same thing, but not exactly. Pining refers to intense longing for what one once knew. Repine adds an element of discontent to any longing—an element carried over from its sense "to feel or express dejection or discontent," which has been in use since the 16th century. Washington Irving used the earlier sense in his 1820 work The Sketch Book: "Through the long and weary day he repines at his unhappy lot." Pine and repine are from Old English pīnian ("to suffer") and probably ultimately from Latin poena ("punishment"). Poena also gave us pain.
Example: "All his journeys were ruggedly performed; for he was always steadfast in a purpose of saving money for Emily's sake, when she should be found. In all this long pursuit, I never heard him repine; I never heard him say he was fatigued, or out of heart." — Charles Dickens

THE ODD WORD

Ragmatical

Wild; ill-behaved

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Roll with the punches

Meaning: To tolerate or 'roll' with the hardships one may unexpectedly run into. It can also refer to a boxing term that means to position, or move one's body or head in such a way so as to decrease the force of impact of the opponent's incoming punches.
Origin: This phrase is believed to originate with boxing, where 'rolling with the punches' was, and still is, a boxing term. The term is used to explain how boxers will often angle themselves in certain ways to help lessen the impact of incoming strikes. For instance, if an opponent throws a left punch, a boxer can 'roll' with it by moving his body and head backwards and to the left. As a result, even if the punch lands, it won't be quite as damaging as a full contact strike. The expression is used in connection with boxing, which is unsurprising given that it came from this sport. Anyways, in a part of the newspaper, a summary is given of a recent sparring match, and it reads:"He repeated the blow a few seconds later and also clubbed Johnson on the cheek . . . Johnson allowed his head to roll with the punches and was not hurt. Johnson's round."

QUOTE BOX

Getting hit motivates me. It makes me punish the guy more. A fighter takes a punch, hits back with three punches. —Roberto Duran

Mumbai Indians seal place in IPL-2020 Final

Mumbai Indians, who beat Delhi Capitals in Qualifier 1 yesterday, seen in celebratory mood.

Dubai, Nov. 6- Mumbai Indians (MI) marched into the Dream11 Indian Premier League (IPL) 2020 Final after they beat Delhi Capitals (DC) by 57 runs in Qualifier 1 at the Dubai International Cricket Stadium last night.

After fifties from Ishan Kishan and Suryakumar Yadav and cameos from Hardik Pandya and Quinton de Kock powered MI to 200/5, Jasprit Bumrah and Trent Boult ran through DC's line-up, restricting them to 143/8.

Needing 201 runs to win, DC were reduced to 0/3. Boult bowled a two-wicket maiden, dismissing Prithvi Shaw and Ajinkya Rahane in the first over. Bumrah bowled a ripper of a yorker to disturb the timber to get Shikhar Dhawan out.

While Shreyas Iyer looked to counterattack, Bumrah had Iyer caught in the fourth over. Krunal Pandya gave MI their fifth wicket after Rishabh Pant was holed out in the deep in the eighth over.

Marcus Stoinis put up a brave fight with the bat as he and Axar Patel added 71 runs together. However, Bumrah's return into the attack, ended Stoinis' 45-ball 65-run knock in the 16th over. In the same over, Bumrah picked his fourth wicket as Daniel Sams was caught behind the wicket. DC eventually scored 143/8.

Earlier, DC, who elected to bowl, remained unchanged while MI made three changes to their playing XI, bringing in Jasprit Bumrah, Hardik Pandya and Trent Boult.

Quinton de Kock made a cracking start as the left-hander creamed three fours in the first over bowled by Daniel Sams. However, DC struck in the second over after R. Ashwin scalped the big wicket of Rohit Sharma, trapping the MI skipper before the wickets.

de Kock and Yadav though continued to attack as the pair took on the DC bowlers to power MI to 63/1 in the powerplay, with the left-hander moving to 38 and Surya scoring 22 off 14 balls.

However, Ashwin broke the de Kock-Yadav stand in the eighth over after de Kock was holed out in the deep.

Yadav continued his merry ways and brought up yet another stylish fifty of the season as MI moved past hundred in the 12th over. However, DC struck back, picking two wickets in quick succession dismissing Yadav for 51 and getting Kieron Pollard out for zero.

Ishan Kishan and Krunal Pandya though denied DC any immediate success. The duo put up a 39-run stand in 23 balls. While Krunal was watchful in his approach, Kishan started to open his shoulders and hit a four and a six off Kagiso Rabada in the 15th over. The pair hit two fours and a six in the next over before Krunal got out in the 17th over.

MI were 145/5 with three overs to go and then, Hardik and Kishan went berserk. The two hit a six each in the 18th over. Hardik then creamed Rabada for two sixes in the penultimate over while Ishan hit a four as MI scored 18 from the over.

The two then went after Nortje in the final over. While the right-arm pacer conceded just a run from the first two balls, Hardik slammed two sixes on the next two deliveries before Kishan sent one over the ropes on the final ball of the innings to take MI to 200.

While Kishan remained unbeaten 55 off 30 balls, Hardik slammed 37* from 14 balls.

Plea to Chamundi Vihar Stadium authorities to allow joggers

Mysuru, Nov. 6- With Chamundi Vihar Stadium shut for public following the outbreak of the deadly COVID-19 pandemic in March, scores of citizens residing in Layouts close to it have appealed the authorities to open the Stadium for joggers.

Pointing out that hundreds of citizens from neighbouring localities such as Nazarbad,Chamundi Vihar Layout, Gayathripuram, Ittigegud, Siddarthanagar, Jyothinagar, Udayagiri and Kyathamaranahalli used to regularly jog in the morning and evening hours in Chamundi Vihar Stadium for fresh air, they said that although all Parks and other open spaces in the city have re-opened for public post-lockdown relaxations, the Department of Youth Empowerment and Sports (DYES) officials are yet to open the Stadium for joggers.

Underlining the importance of inhaling fresh air during Corona times, they appealed the Deputy Commissioner to issue directions to the authorities to allow them for jogging inside the Stadium.

Meanwhile, former Corporator N. Dhruvaraj said that doctors have been advising the public to do physical exercises and consume nutritious food to boost immunity during the COVID-19 crisis. When such is the case, there is no point in the officials closing the place for jogging. As such the authorities should open the Stadium for joggers and morning walkers, he said.
